GIVING CLIENTS PEACE OF MIND DURING FAMILY LAW MATTERS

Caryn Green opened the doors of Green Family Law in 2016 with the goal of creating the kind of firm she would hire herself. After nearly 25 years of practicing law, Green founded her firm with two key principles:

- Create an environment that delivers peace of mind and security to both clients and staff.
- Maintain a practice of the highest professional standards and preparedness.

Recognizing the stress of family law matters, GFL lawyers put clients at ease by crafting a client-centric plan. It's based on thorough communication and the kind of care that allow clients to focus their energy elsewhere while the legal team works tirelessly on their behalf.

Green has assembled a team of legal professionals who are committed to collaboration, continuing education and determined preparation. Settling out of court is always preferred, but the team prepares for the possibility of trial to protect the clients' best interests and set reasonable expectations.
